Learn how to help MINIMIZE the risk of employment lawsuits:

- Tips to make sure that your Employee Handbooks are compliant with the law and practical for your business.
- Tips you should consider to most effectively hire and fire employees.
- Tips on conducting solid investigations in the face of employee complaints.
- Tips on making sure that your practices regarding minimum wage, overtime and paid sick leave are compliant with the law.
- Tips on handling situations where employees use social media to make negative comments about your business or management staff.

Please come listen to Rob talk about these important tips designed to best protect your businesses before the networking begins at our next Shmoozefest.

Food Industry News has partnered with Rob Bernstein of Laner Muchin, an attorney specializing in labor law issues facing the food industry, to present a 45 minute, informative free seminar at 3PM on Monday October 16th at the Trophy Room.
